Tourism & Investment Potential

Lagos has a strong and consistent tourism market, attracting both short-term holidaymakers and long-term residents from across Europe.

Demand for modern apartments remains high, particularly close to the marina, making these plots highly attractive for residential sales, holiday rentals, or mixed-use investment strategies.

The Algarve property market continues to show solid growth, with limited availability of well-located development land — especially this close to the marina — reinforcing the long-term value and resale potential of this investment.

An aerial photograph of a large residential development. The scene is dominated by numerous multi-story apartment buildings with red-tiled roofs, arranged in a grid-like pattern. A prominent waterway, likely a canal or river, runs through the center-left of the image, featuring a marina with several boats docked. To the right, a large, irregularly shaped area is highlighted in a semi-transparent red color. The surrounding landscape includes green lawns, paved roads, and some open, undeveloped land. The overall impression is of a modern, planned urban community.
